Fmx distribution box

Overview

The system provides reliable switching, protection, metering and distribution of electrical energy up to 24 kV and 2000 A. Power Xpert FMX consists of metal-enclosed modular compact panels of minimum 500 mm. Choose from two different series of steel enclosure for industrial control panel applications The FPG console systems consist of an integrated base and desk unit. The desk panel is held open by a pneumatic panel stay to ensure convenient access. The 600mm wide console can accept 19” rack mount. Power Xpert FMX is Eaton's IEC single busbar medium voltage switchgear using solid and air insulation. High-quality materials and robust product designs ensure a reliable connection, signal transmission and power. The series of Eaton Medium Voltage systems offers switchgear and components for applications in distribution networks (main stations, sub stations and transformer stations) and industrial power supplies. 5500 Order international: +1 609. 9393 Order from EU: +44 1782 576800 IN STOCK!
